Talk with your partner(s) about any other areas you'd like to agree on. Then, write the agreements you've made here so you can refer back to them if needed.

Use this agreement with every learning partner you have at Microverse. If you have any misunderstandings, discuss them in a Zoom call since misunderstandings are more common in text or Slack messages. If you feel shy to talk directly in a Zoom call, we recommend sending your partner a Loom Video to communicate your frustration rather than using Slack or text messages. Using video will help you avoid misunderstandings and resolve things more quickly.
